SLAP (Sierra Leone Authority to the People)

Sponsors: China, France, Kenya, Russian Federation, United Kingdom of Great Britain

Signatories: Costa Rica, Sweden, Japan, Bahrain, Gambia, Portugal, U.S.A, Brazil

Recognizing the destructive nature of conflict in Sierra Leone,

Understanding the need for comprehensive education across Sierra Leone,

Ensuring the reconstruction of Sierra Leone in the wake of the Civil War.

Working to promote unity and cohesion throughout the entire nation,

Establishing a secure central government to ensure unity and combat corruption

To the United Nations Security Council,

1. Create a rotating board of local municipalities in Sierra Leone (SLAP - Sierra Leone Authority to the People), allowing major cities and rural areas to have a seat at the table as well
  - i. Poll Sierra Leoneans (they have to identify as that) working with local community workshops, religious leaders, and youth groups
  - ii. Include religious & Cultural leaders to ensure diverse populations have an equitable say
  - iii. Include village elders to ensure rural communities have a voice
- b. Establish adequate oversight of the creation of a new legislature, advisory board, and rotating municipality board
  - i. Board would be swapped every 3 months with local regions;
  - ii. Utilizing UN experts;
  - iii. Comprised of international organizations, rotating UNSC delegation presence, and African Union (AU) member states
- c. Ensure that the representatives in the government board are routinely updated (around 4 times a year) on the citizens' requests and needs via the Qualitative Understanding and Empowerment of Everyday Needs (QUEEN)
- d. Create advisory board of the citizens to oversee new government as overseen by Governance and Authority Managed by Local Entities (GAMBLE) state systems
  - i. Run town halls in different GAMBLE municipalities in order to hear directly from citizens on what system of government they'd like to see.
  - ii. Directly integrate this state system into SLAP central government solutions to ensure seamless integration
- e. Establish a bicameral legislature to meet local needs.
  - i. The representatives from this body will be made of two from each new district, one selected by the leaders in GAMBLE and one that is elected by each individual in the municipalities
  - ii. One house will be made of the rotating boards of these government leaders, focused on longer-term vision for the country
  - iii. The other house will be the people's house, voting on immediate day-to-day legislative issues, which work to develop new economic and humanitarian policies needed to keep the society afloat.

- iv. Prepare systems in case of natural disasters or emergencies as outlined in ACE.
- f. Establish a voting system that is comprised of all Sierra Leonean citizens above the age of 18
  - i. Function on rank choice voting system which allows citizens to vote for their top candidate
    - 1. In the case that their top candidate is not chosen, their vote carries on to their second-ranked candidate and so on until a candidate is chosen
  - ii. Elections run for each house of the legislature on a staggered, two year cycle
- 2. Establish the Governance and Authority Managed by Local Entities (GAMBLE) to create individual states following traditional Sierra Leonean borders, allowing distinct newly-formed cultural, ethnic, and religious groups the independence to ensure that there is sovereignty in all regions in Sierra Leone
  - a. Organize a body of different local and community leaders from the various regions of the country, who can come together to form a council of different states.
    - i. The UNSC will ensure that a free and fair election of these individuals are held to bring the utmost confidence to this council
    - ii. The UNSC will officially recognize this council as a true government and involve it in international discussions to further foreign policy
  - b. Each state shall be further subdivided into autonomous zones for tribal communities
    - i. A central board elected by state citizens will manage all state-related matters
    - ii. The central government shall oversee large and influential state activities
  - c. Ensure the equal representation of all local citizens of Sierra Leone
    - i. Emphasize the need for all voices to be heard and equally represented prior to the establishment of a centralized government
    - ii. Focus on the need for diverse voices in all aspects of the government
  - d. Integrate Sierra Leone's state system into the broader central government, with states having localized control and governance over community-specific education and environment goals, including:
    - i. Central Government-overseen, but state-operated, schools and professional vocation systems;
    - ii. Environmental guidelines, parks, regulations and others chosen by local state boards;
    - iii. School curricula; incorporating all religions and values; keeping children in education rather than the workforce
  - e. This central government will develop processes to work with international support systems, creating both public and private partnerships with allies
    - i. UN support: work towards getting a temporary seat on the UNSC, and creating a system for lasting governance with other nations, including the P5

- ii. NGOs: work with a tiered system of groups to address the most important needs of Sierra Leonians, such as food security and water supplies, working with the GAWAIN financial system
